Does This Child Need Help? Identification and Early Childhood Intervention

Second Edition

Early childhood professionals in mainstream settings have found a great source of information and support in the Does This Child Need Help? package. Early Childhood Intervention Australia (NSW Chapter) is delighted to have now published the second edition of this package. The 2nd edition remains true to the philosophy of the 1st, but includes much new and updated information related to current evidence-based research and practice. The new edition's contents are:

Part 1:

Young Children with Disabilities and Delays: Identification and Intervention

- Chapter 1: What is Early Childhood Intervention?
- Chapter 2: Why Intervene Early? Rationale and Evidence

Part 2:

Understanding Early Childhood Development and Identifying Concerns

- Chapter 3: Early Childhood Development
- Chapter 4: Identifying Young Children with Additional Needs
- Chapter 5: Making Sense of What You Find

Part 3:

Communicating Concerns

- Chapter 6: Talking with Families
- Chapter 7: Ethical Issues: Taking on the Hard Stuff
- Chapter 8: What next?

The full package comprises a learner's resource book, trainer's guide, CD-ROM, training video and DVD.

Costs are as follows:

The full DTCNH package: $150.00 (ECIA Members)
